EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by Don Graham

Benjamin Franklin, famous for his great achievements in many fields, was also vitally interested in character development. For his own self-improvement he created a checklist of qualities and virtues, which represented an ideal toward which to strive. Here are a few selections from his list:

"Silence. Speak to benefit others or yourself."
"Order. Organize your equipment and your time."
"Resolution. Plan and execute without fail."
"Industry. Waste neither time nor effort."
"Sincerity. Avoid deceit. Think and act justly."
But Franklin went one important step further. Realizing that it is humanly impossible to improve oneself a dozen ways at once, he concentrated on one virtue at a time. Each week he would practice that virtue to the best of his ability. Then he would proceed to another, until he had completed the list. Following this policy helped make Franklin one of the great men of history. It may help you.

"Frugality. Avoid needless expense. Waste nothing."
This was another of Franklin's objectives. So I am sure that, had life insurance existed in his day, he would have taken advantage of this systematic method of saving for his old age.

Aurora Candidates

Travelling through a steady drizzle of rain and over icy roads and sidewalks, 200 interested citizens of Aurora attended the annual nomination meeting held at Aurora and district high school auditorium Monday night.

The most interested and largest crowd for many years entered the activities of the evening slowly and it was not until shortly before nominations closed that the entire crowd was present. Although no official record of attendance is kept, several candidates seeking election expressed the belief that the crowd was an all-time record and that the interest was at a new high.

Four hours after the opening of the doors, the meeting was drawn to a close and even then there was still over 100 present who extended a cordial interest in all speakers.

As the crowd left the building slowly, the general opinion was that the meeting had been a tremendous success and it was felt that the coming election would also be successful and that a good vote could be forecast.

The following is an abstract of the remarks of the Aurora candidates at the nomination meeting Monday night:

Dr. Crawford Rose: The past year has seen considerable growth of the town and town organizations. Besides routine work there has been recently added to council a number of committees and commissions. Aurora is in a state of normal, healthy, progressive growth which has not yet reached its peak.

Reeve A. A. Cook: We are endeavoring to put first things first and get the best value from the town's tax dollars. I intend to do my best to aspire for the Wardenship of York County in 1951 or '52 if you people will bear with me.

FOR DEPUTY-REEVE

R. H. Corner: It has been a privilege to serve you during the past two years. Our streets are now in excellent condition. However cement has been hard to procure and we couldn't do as much on the sidewalks.

Lorne Evans: The spending of money needs to be watched closely. Thirteen hundred dollars was spent in grading and graveling Cousins Drive. Then it was torn up for water and again graded and gravelled. This was repeated for sewers, and then for storm sewers. Now they've torn it up again and you can't even get through it. For six years I was a member of county council and was formerly reeve of Whitechurch.

FOR MAYOR

Ross Linton: Aurora must have a continuity of good government. We need only look at our neighbors to see how easy it is to make mistakes. Industry is moving out of a nearby town, due to agreements made under cover that could not be kept. Assessment must be carried out carefully. All must be assessed in proper proportion and common sense must govern.

Alex Bell: Financial statements are dry. The work of council should receive more publicity. Could not the council minutes be printed in the town paper? We are heading for a recession and must prepare for it and guard our spending.

FOR COUNCIL

W. C. Corbett: The dances held weekly in the high school by the Recreation Commission are a credit to the town. It is expected that the ice pipes will be in the arena, completely installed, in a week's time, with the heating unit installed in two weeks.

Charles Davies: I have nothing concrete to report on the special sanitation committee working on the tannery odor until samples taken for Dr. Berry have been tested and a report made. We expect that the solution will entail an addition to the sewage disposal plant, but Collis Leather Co. would undoubtedly bear a portion of this cost. I feel safe in saying that something concrete will be done before another summer is over.

Don Glass: I would like to see a commission set up to look after the parks. Nothing has as yet been done about the green belt. Our water system must be revised. Every citizen is entitled to an adequate supply of water. I would like to see greater cooperation among town employees, the consideration of a town manager and a sound building program.

Victor Jones: There have been great improvements on town property. I have served on the property committee for the past two years and would like to serve you again.

Jim Murray: I am aware that the planning board has come in for criticism. But it is new and it will take a while to raise the interest of the citizens. There are bound to be mistakes, but it is better to have some plan than no plan at all. During the past year a building code and a building by-law were drafted and a building inspector is now being considered.

Harold Pringle: I would like to see council meet regularly twice a month. Most meetings now last until well after midnight. This would give council more time to plan. So far as the mill rate is concerned, we hope to hold it the same as it is at present.

G. R. Rowat: I am a Canadian sales manager with SKF and have resided in Aurora for the past five years. I feel that a town worth living in is worth fighting for. I should like to carry on in sanitation work being done in connection with the tannery odor.

R. B. Tucker: I came here to nominate someone and found myself nominated. While only recently from England, I was active there in municipal affairs.

Les Beaver: I am running on a sports ticket. If you would like to take someone on a sports ticket I would like to help. I have managed artificial ice arenas and know recreation and sports inside out. I would like to help make the Aurora arena a success and aid recreation.

Robert Gundy: It is necessary to introduce new blood in order to have someone always ready to step up. Both Mr. Rowat and myself are engineers. I would like to see you elect one engineer, for engineering advice will be necessary with all the new developments in Aurora.

Muskox and caribou, found in all interior valleys of Ellesmere Island in the Arctic, feed on lichens.

Footnote-Notes

BY WILLIAM FOOTE
AURORA EDITOR

Monday night's nomination meeting in Aurora emphatically emphasized the increasing interest of the electorate in municipal affairs. Highly successful, the meeting boasted a record attendance as well as a nomination slate of nearly 40 names.

Next Monday the electorate will select eight men from among those who qualified. They will fill the positions of mayor, deputy-reeve and six councillors. In making these selections, the problems to be faced by these men during the coming year must be considered. Briefly, the major issues for consideration will be the development of homes and the consequent need of building supervision and services, the tannery odor problem and the sewage disposal plant, industrial development, the arena, the schools and town planning.

These problems are nearly all on the way. They will involve large expenditures of money. We must have municipal officials capable of handling them.

Our mayor must bring to his office an experienced and able guiding hand. He must merit the confidence and trust of not only the people but the council with which he must work. He must be one who is prepared to keep things moving and not let them bog down in a morass of irrelevant detail.

The council requires men of experience. A progressive outlook and questioning, agile minds are a must. Technical experience, too, is essential. Too often councils lack men who are familiar with and have an understanding of the more specialized problems often faced in the modern municipality. Much of council's work can be handled more efficiently and rapidly by the inclusion of men qualified to advise professionally.

We dare not trust our town to people of pessimistic of reactionary outlook. Above all, we must avoid the person who for one reason or another is a muddled thinker. Clear, reasonably unbiased thinking produces successful ideas and decisions.

Some of the biggest decisions in the history of Aurora will likely be made during 1950, and the whole future of the town may well hinge on them. Let's have men competent to make these decisions. We can't afford to be wrong.

I respectfully ask your support for my election as councillor for 1950

I PROMISE TO DO MY VERY BEST TO MAKE 1950 A

All members of the East Gwill. imbury Rod, Gun and Conservation club are asked to be on hand for the nomination meeting for the election of officers for 1950 on Monday, Dec. 12. The meeting will be held at Holland Landing.

BROWNHILL

We at Brownhill are glad of the warm change of weather especially when Mr. John Francis Crouth will be having his 93rd birthday on Sunday, Dec. 4, and Mr. Crouth will be at home to welcome all his friends and neighbors and he is looking for all his family that are living throughout Canada from Brownhill to Penticton, B.C. It is expected they will all be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crouth by Sunday, Dec. 4, where we are quite sure there will be stories of the days when Brownhill did not have the name of Brownhill and when there wasn't even a road through to the store, of his days of thrashing with Percy Pollock's machine and of course those wonderful deer and hunting in general, and his hobby of chickens and geese in which he takes keen interest. There is a giant size fruit cake all decorated with the usual birthday greetings for the big supper next Sunday when it is to be hoped all his children will be around the table.

Now an event of great interest to all who have been attending the annual Christmas concerts here at Brownhill, there is to be a wonderful concert this year, a program put on by these children and they have been practising for some time, also the singing accompanied by Mrs. Crouth on the piano. This concert will be on Dec. 22, at the Brownhill school. Mr. Harvey Jones is the teacher and has been doing his best to get the children well trained for their parts in this concert.

KETTLEBY

B.&P. Club Hears Report On Activities of Branches

At the November meeting of Newmarket Business and Professional Women's club, an interesting report was presented by the president, Mrs. Jean Elines, on the Ontario provincial conference which was held at the Chateau Laurier hotel, Ottawa, in October.

The two-day conference which attracted more than 270 members of Ontario clubs, was presided over by Mrs. Maude Cawsey, Toronto, who was elected president for another year at the closing sessions. Mrs. Cawsey organized the Newmarket club.

A resolution urging the federal government to consider women as well as men as eligible and qualified citizens for positions as civil service commissioners and chairmen of the civil service commission of Canada was passed.

Delegates also heard a report of special committee who has been studying an Ontario bill by which "equal pay for comparable work" would be applied provincially to women's wages. Another resolution which was sponsored by the Learnington club urged Business and Professional Women's clubs to "further the organization of classes for new Canadians, and those of foreign births", in which the English language, and the history of Canada and organization of the Canadian government will be taught.

Also present was the national president, Miss Ruth McGill, L.L.B., who led the polls by a large majority for alderman in Regina in the last election.

Reports on some of the work and projects carried on by other Ontario clubs showed that one club furnished a room in a local hospital; another sponsored a Christmas theatre party for underprivileged children; assisted the Children's Aid in many ways; supplied a scholarship at a local college; held dances, lunches and teas for new Canadians; entertained elderly lady pensioners at a Christmas party; purchased a radio for a blind person; and financially helped a new Canadian girl who wanted to be a nurse.

For That Extra Suit

By BETTY BRAMMER

An extra suit never comes amiss. We saw a lovely English worsted in a Newmarket shop. On the tailored line and double-breasted, it boasted six self-covered buttons on the longish jacket. It comes in beige and taupe shades. Perfect under the new short fur coat.

For baby's first Christmas nothing could be sweeter than a quilted satin kimono. They come in pink and blue and would delight any new mother. We also noticed some plastic sock stretchers for baby in pink, blue or white. They start at the first size and can be adjusted four sizes.

A lovely black crepe dress seen in a store in Newmarket would be ideal for the more mature woman. Made on very slimming lines with three-quarter sleeves and v-neckline, it was perfectly plain except for the neckline effect of black bugle beads.

Everyone likes nice hankies and we saw some beautiful ones on Main St. in pink, blue and green linen. They were made in Switzerland and daintily embroidered in one corner. Another that would make a very welcome gift for someone was a tiny square of fine linen with a wide lace border.

For something extra to hang on the tree for "the best girl" we saw a cute Snow Woman made of white plastic with a saucy felt beret holding a lipstick and a Snow Baby on a bottle of nail polish.

A wonderful coat for either the participant or spectator is the station wagon. The one shown in a Newmarket store was three-quarter length, had a soft moulton collar and quilted satin lining. These coats are good for casual wear with a skirt or with slacks for skiing or skating. You can also buy them in full length.

We saw a lovely semi-formal dress that would make any girl feel like the belle of the ball. It had a portrait neckline with a double collar effect, fitted bodice and full skirt. In a dark taupe shade it had two sizes of black velvet coin dots scattered over it. This type of dress is very new for evening and is seven inches from the floor.

A tip from Betty: To make your teeth appear whiter use a clear, bright red lipstick.

"Save The Children" Appeals Help Clothe Youngsters

An appeal is being made for financial contributions to aid the Save the Children Fund. Food prices in Europe are so high that many essentials are out of reach of large sections of the population, which means that children are badly nourished.

Since parents cannot afford to buy both food and clothing, the children's clothing is appalling. Pictures which were taken by David Seymour for UNESCO and presented to the Canadian Save the Children Fund, show Europe's children as they are today, hungry and pleading for food, hobbling about on crutches, feet amputated because of frost-bite due to lack of shoes. Filthy and ragged; these children are still living in a mental blackout as a result of terrible experiences; these children are the citizens of the future.

Warm used clothing and shoes are needed desperately. The packing depot, corner of Main and Water Sts., will be open on Thursday, Dec. 15, to receive donations of shoes and clothing. These will be sent to Toronto for shipment direct to the children of Europe.

Old felt hats and heavy coats which have passed their period of usefulness may be converted into warm slippers and booties. Such a pattern has been received by Mrs. Ted Mitchell, president of the Home and School Association, which is organizing the local appeal and anyone who would be willing to make any of these booties and slippers is asked to contact Mrs. Mitchell.

A birthday collection was taken at the November meeting of the Home and School Association with everyone present putting in a penny for each year of their age. Fourteen dollars and ten cents was received. This collection with the amount raised by the local school children brings the total amount received for the Save the Children Fund to $43.27.

Donations for this fund may be left at the Dominion Bank. All contributions are tax exempt.

AFTERNOON AND KATE AITKEN

Then came Mrs. Aitken and one could almost feel the thrill that swept over the 600 odd women as the small, slender lady in the grey suit, with white hat and gloves, took her place at the microphone, which had no power in her case to bind her in its spell. She used gestures and her warm, vivid, glowing personality seemed to reach out and touch each of her hearers with a magic that opened our eyes and ears to "learn, mark and inwardly digest" her meaning. She told us we were a most heart-warming audience and she said she had a piece of advice for women to "keep our feet on the ground and our hearts in heaven."

She went on to tell us of an experience she had in Germany when 45 women of different nationalities, friend and late enemy, sat down at a table to discuss the one fundamental thing they were all agreed on, that in the world there should be peace.

No woman there had seen powder or lipstick, none had a permanent all wore clothes that had been sent by Canadians or Americans, clothes that covered them without much regard for fit or becomingness.

At the head of the table was an English woman, grey of face, grey of hair and grey of clothes. At the foot was a huge German woman doctor weighing 225 pounds, truculent and opinionated. Beside Mrs. Aitken was a little French woman doctor and in between, women of other nationalities.

The German doctor said one thing she was determined on "no German woman or child would starve in the next war." The French doctor countered with the number of French children who had starved and suffered from malnutrition.

As we had to leave at the conclusion of her speech we lost the last of the session but as we journeyed home and listened as our two men told of the work on the new subway and the movie they had seen, underneath all the enjoyment of the pleasant homeward drive, was the feeling that we women have power and a mission if we have strength of mind and heart to go forward and accomplish what is required of us.

Soups—They Satisfy All

A substantial soup is just the thing for supper or lunch when there is a winter chill in the air. Soups have a wide range, they may be clear broths which are merely appetizers; stock soups containing meat, vegetables and barley or rice; cream soups made with milk or substantial chowders thick with a variety of good things.

Stock soups may be a most extravagant course if made by our grandmothers' recipes which called for fresh meat and a marrow bone. If stock is made from meat scraps, vegetable water, leftover vegetables, celery tops, outer leaves of cabbage and bones from a roast it may be appetizing although cheap.

A leftover freshly cooked vegetable or a combination of several cut in small pieces and added to a thin cream sauce makes a satisfying bowl.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE E. ION

In the many roles which the Canadian woman plays today, her influence extends far beyond the home. Even in the field of politics, male-dominated as it is, the importance of her vote is considerable... when she chooses to exercise her franchise. There are 3,750,000 Canadian women who are eligible to vote. In national affairs, provincial or municipal affairs this tremendous influence could benefit our way of life greatly if these women used their vote intelligently and at all opportunities.

Elections of candidates for the municipal council, hydro commission and school trustees will be held in town on Monday, Dec. 5. Will the women of Newmarket turn out to vote? It was interesting to note at the federal election in June that approximately the same percentage of women in town exercised this right as did the male voters. And why not... are not the problems of municipal government as much the concern of the one sex as they are of the other? Should not a mother be interested in whether proper recreational and educational facilities are to be provided for her children? The problems of today are a challenge to men and women alike. They demand thoughtful and enlightened voting.

Occasionally we have heard it said that women in politics make the mistake of campaigning for votes on the basis of their sex, rather than on their qualifications for the particular position. Quite frequently this is a legitimate complaint. No man uses as his platform the mere fact that he is a male. But then he does not have to overcome prejudices because of his sex. He is not penalized because he is a man. Have you ever heard anyone say upon learning of the success of some man, "Not bad, for a man"? But that occurs time and time again when a woman is concerned. When we read that some woman has been appointed to an important post the reaction is frequently, "Imagine a woman doing that work".

Byrne Hope Sanders in a recent Chatelaine editorial, "Let's learn to like woman", said that the majority of women prefer a man lawyer or doctor; that girls don't want to work for a woman boss and that the support that women get from women in public life and politics is almost nil. She said, "A woman has to be smarter, better groomed, more charming than the average man in the same job. She dare not utter the cliche inanities of so many men when speaking from a platform." Can we blame men for qualifying their praise of successful women when that is the attitude among women themselves? It is time we stopped talking and thinking in generalities. Women haven't a monopoly on such traits as being careless, too fond of gossip, sentimental, impractical or jealous.

Nevertheless, women have an entirely different outlook and it is because of this that they must be willing to take a more active part in municipal affairs... even if it is just to make certain that they do not allow December 5 to pass without marking their ballot for the candidates of their individual choosing. What a pity that the qualities found in such abundance in the women's organizations in town are not more fully utilized for the benefit of the town. The amount of work that is accomplished; the attention which is given to detail so that projects may be run with a minimum of confusion; the efficient manner in which the business is dispatched... all these regular occurrences provide ample evidence of the workings of the female brain outside the home.

In the home the roles which the Canadian woman plays are many. She must be a nurse, teacher, purchasing agent, housekeeper, cook, seamstress, cleaning woman and psychologist. She must influence her family the way of good citizenship as well as establish for them a well-organized home which will provide for their physical and mental well-being. It is not enough that she has mastered the techniques of housekeeping, she must be able to translate them into homemaking. But regardless of their individual characteristics and qualifications, all women should be interested in the government of their municipality, province and nation. They should make it their business to know the qualifications of the candidates for office and be willing to give of their time and thought to the proper selection of the members of the municipal council, hydro commission and the school trustees.

YOUNG HOPEFULS BY DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

For Lack Of A Broad View

Henry, teen-ager, has what might be called hand-intelligence and is misunderstood by his word-intelligent father.

From the beginning, Henry was mechanically-minded and nothing anyone could say or do would change his trend of thought.

Henry's mother appreciated him and capable executive in a large and flourishing firm and had hopes of his son following in his footsteps. So different were father and son that neither understood the other and the breach widened so that there was seemingly no respect or human connection between them.

Henry's mother appreciated the different types and tried to create an understanding between father and son—but was never able to keep peace in the family when the two were under the same roof. Her interference just involved her in the fracas and her brother, a garage owner whom Henry practically worshipped, and his father simply belittled.

At length, after Henry had suffered through the required schooling, he rebelled. He simply wouldn't continue school—no matter what! He wanted a job—yes, in his uncle's garage. However, Henry's father was emphatic—no son of his would ever work as a garage mechanic. If he couldn't compel him to continue school, he could insist that he find a white-collared job, at least.

Through his connections, Henry's father found him one clerking position after another—growing more resentful each time his son failed to qualify on the permanent staff.

Wherever Henry worked, the same complaints were raised against him. "He makes the other clerks dissatisfied," "He's sullen to customers," "He discourages business," etc., etc. Finally, after two years of repeated failures as a white-collared man, Henry's father turned him out of the house to stand on his own feet.

Immediately, Henry's feet turned in the direction of his uncle's garage, which had been forbidden territory during the past two years. The uncle welcomed him into his business as an apprentice and together they expanded the business. There was a certain faith in each other, built on understanding, that brightened the outlook for both uncle and nephew. Both are very happy working together at work and they enjoy and gain much satisfaction because they can please their ever-increasing customers.

So often, stories of misunderstood boys at home result in juvenile delinquency cases. In Henry's instance, he was fortunate to have someone to turn to when there was no security at home.

It is very difficult for some word-intelligent people to appreciate hand-intelligent individuals despite the fact that these types are both essential. Besides, each has abilities to become successful if given opportunities to pursue a course suited to his respective talents.

St. Paul's W.A. Observes St. Andrew's Day

Last Sunday, Mr. D. C. Hutt, student in charge of Christ church, Roche's Point, and St. Paul's church, Jersey, at Miami Beach conducted both the morning and evening services at St. Paul's church, Newmarket, exchanging with Rev. J. T. Rhodes. Yesterday, St. Andrew's Day, the members of the afternoon branch of the Woman's Auxiliary attended a corporate communion held in the chapel at 10.30 and the members of the evening branch will hold its corporate communion at 8.30 next Sunday. St. Andrew's day is observed in this way by every branch of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of England in Canada in every parish everywhere.

The Sunday-school scholars are presenting a Christmas play under the direction of Mrs. J. Dales in the parish hall Friday evening, Dec. 16. Reserve the date.

Today the evening branch of the W.A. has a novelty table and a table of home baking at the monster bazaar in the town hall, afternoon and evening.

The men of St. Paul's have been holding a series of "work parties" every Wednesday evening at 7.30 to redecorate the lower hall since the removal of the furnace and the coal-bin and the installing of the new system of heating.

The choir is busy under Mr. J. F. Willis, organist and choir director, preparing the Christmas music.

The flowers in church last Sunday were in memory of Mrs. E. M. Fairley and Leslie Anne Barker from members of the family. Next Sunday the Woman's Auxiliary is placing the flowers in the church.

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

Our scout in a forward observation post, down by the waterworks, reported Thursday afternoon, too late to make the headlines, that the kids were playing hockey on the pond.

"They were testing the ice on their way to school at noon today," he reports, "and after school they were down here in droves."

"What's the ice look like," we asked. "A trifle thin," he replied dubiously. "We're standing by in case of accidents."

Well, it was encouraging news after reading that our hopes for ice in the arena by November 25 were to be blasted by a few missing switches and one thing and another in the electrical line. George Haskett is still as optimistic as ever. "A temporary set-back only," he tells us. "We'll be in there before you know it."

We had a pleasant visit last week with Lieut. Davis Edwards, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards, Newmarket. Lieut. Edwards and his wife, the former Dorothy Gartschore, left for Dartmouth this week after enjoying part of Lieut. Edwards' leave here.

Lieut. Edwards is gunnery officer aboard the frigate, H.M.S.C. Swansea, which was in the news last week as one of the three vessels looking for the ditched crew of a B29 off Bermuda. Lieut. Edwards was somewhat rueful about these activities during his absence. "Missed the excitement," he explained.

A member of the permanent force, Lieut. Edwards is thoroughly enjoying life in the navy, and for that matter, it seems to suit him. He looks as healthy as a bear. He feels the navy has a lot to offer a young man who likes that life. There is a shortage of officers and prospects of promotion are reasonably good.

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

November 28, 1914

On Tuesday evening the members of the curling club held their annual meeting in the board of trade rooms. The officers elected were: pres., G. A. Binns; vice pres., E. S. Cody; sec.-treas., W. N. McCutcheon; executive committee, Rev. J. C. Cochran, G. C. DeWaele, F. J. Doyle, J. R. Y. Broughton and Alex. Rutledge.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Grant, Orchard Beach, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Collins on Tuesday. They are leaving today to spend the winter in Florida.

Mrs. Robert Railton and Miss Clara Railton, Sinaluta, Sask., are visiting Mrs. Wilmet Hill.

Mr. Fred Penrose, Bogartown, has purchased the brick residence on Prospect St. belonging to William Boyd and will take possession immediately.

Mr. Gilfillan, local blacksmith, entered five birds at the Royal Winter Fair. The entries consisted of three canaries and two mules, a cross between a wild goldfinch and a canary. The canaries took first, second and third and the mules second and third.

Miss Margaret Walker, Vaudor, and Mr. and Mrs. Rae Armitage, Toronto, spent last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brammer.

Rev. Frank Brunton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brunton, Newmarket, has left Bermuda and is now at Allendale, South Carolina.

A most successful fowl supper and entertainment was held in Zephyr Methodist church on Monday evening. Three hundred people sat down to supper. The entertainment was given by Mr. R. Wilson and proceeds from the evening were $200.

The Editorials:

Debenture Spending

A striking feature of this year's nomination meeting in Newmarket was the apparent willingness of the candidates to commit themselves to heavy expenditures in the forthcoming year. Our recollection of the practice of past years is that candidates were more concerned with excusing expenditures of the past than they were the advocacy of expenditures in the future. The promise to spend, for many, was considered the equivalent to a political "kiss of death". That this no longer applies is, in our opinion, one of the most encouraging developments in many years.

The unpleasant fact, testified to by the condition of the physical facilities of Newmarket, is that expenditures to maintain and improve these facilities have been avoided in the in favor of "keeping the debenture debt down". The result has been, of course, to increase the eventual cost of renovation and repair as the passage of time encourages deterioration of roads and sidewalks, municipal buildings, and other physical facilities.

Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette estimated on nomination night that the debenture debt would be $168,000 by the end of the year with the addition of debentures for sewers, sidewalks and the arena, and at least $100,000 by the end of next year with debentures for the new school, sewers, well and other expenditures. The debenture debt was this year at November 15 the comparatively unimportant sum of $127,000.

The disadvantage of a debenture debt is that it represents a fixed charge against the tax-rate, thus limiting the amount of ready income available for current expenditures. However, Newmarket is unable to make the improvements it so greatly requires from its current revenue, nor is the town permitted to build up a surplus against future expenditures so that there is really no choice in the financing of major improvements: they must be done by debenture or not at all.

The consideration of a potential debenture debt must also include the fact that Newmarket's assessment is close to $4 million which should permit greater facility in the issuing of debentures. In 1926, for example, there was a $500,000 debenture debt on an assessment of $2 million as against a potential debenture debt of $107,000 in 1950 against almost double that assessment.

Newmarket could, for that matter, double that debenture debt within the limits of safety as set forth by the department of municipal affairs. A request for a safe rule of thumb in computing the practical limits of a debenture debt was replied to by $200 per capita which would permit Newmarket a debenture debt of close to $1 million. Another limit suggested was one quarter to one third of total assessment. These suggestions are, however, conditioned by the use to which the revenue is put, the income of the citizens, their willingness to accept the debt, the interest rates (never higher than four percent) and other factors. A doubly safe figure would be $600,000 to $700,000, leaving Newmarket a long way to go before risking any difficulties.

But with or without these considerations, the fact remains that if Newmarket is to have the improvements it needs, the only way it can be done is by debenture, and the fundamental issue facing the electors on Monday is to choose a council which will spend wisely for the greatest benefit.

Arena Volunteers

There was considerable reference to the work being done at the arena, all of it laudatory, at the Newmarket nominations. The volunteer workers were given their due by several speakers. The larger significance of the project, that it reflects a growing community spirit, was also remarked upon. It is a fact that at the arena, there is being accomplished a job which makes Newmarket the envy of its neighbors. That so many have given so freely of their time and energy for the community benefit indicates that Newmarket need never fear what the future may hold.

Hospital Appeals

The Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto is appealing for an additional $4 millions to complete its building program. Appeals for funds, coming from Toronto, do not ordinarily engage our attention in these columns which are intended primarily for the support of local projects. But the Hospital for Sick Children appeal is different the hospital, it is true, is located in Toronto but its services extend in an ever-widening circle to include all of Canada. Indeed, the training it offers nurses and medical students from all over the world broadens its influence to a scope which is truly international.

Because of the Hospital for Sick Children, the area

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

immediately about Toronto, within a radius of some 200 miles, is called the safest area in the world for children. Such is the excellence and diversity of its services, and the extent of its knowledge, it is able to cure children despaired of where only general hospital services, as good as they may be, are available.

Hundreds of Newmarket and district parents, over the years, have had the benefits of the Hospital for Sick Children. Few reports are made at the Lions club on care of youngsters without reference to that hospital. We speak of the Lions club from personal experience, but wherever such care is offered by other organizations we are sure the same statement could be made. The Hospital for Sick Children is, in fact, as much of a Newmarket hospital as our own York County Memorial Hospital. For that reason, its appeal for funds is urgently supported on this page, and will be, we hope, as urgently supported by all in Newmarket and district who can give to that hospital "Where no child knocks in vain".

U.S.A. Influence

The number of individual copies of United States controlled periodicals distributed in Canada during 1948 was 86 million plus. That amount represents the combined circulation of 181 periodicals and does not include pulp and comic books, lodge, religious and scholastic publications and the like. In 1948, the total number of copies of 38 Canadian magazines distributed in Canada was 41 million plus—less one-third of the total of all magazines distributed in Canada.

These figures, taken from a brief presented to the Massey Commission by the Periodical Press Association, indicate to the extent Canadian manners and ways are subjected to the influence of the United States. The figures also hint of the economic problems a country, whose population, like that of Canada, is so much less than its neighbor, must face. United States periodicals are in demand in Canada because the circulations these magazines can achieve in the United States alone, over a million for several of them, give their publishers the income with which to purchase the quality which makes them popular here. The same condition exists in other fields wherever quality and price are directly related to volume, which in this age of mass production includes almost everything.

Canadian publishers cannot, for example, produce magazines like Good Housekeeping or the Saturday Evening Post, to mention only two representative periodicals, simply because there is not a sufficiently large Canadian market. The circulations of these two magazines run in the several millions. It is a credit to the publishers of Canadian magazines that they are able to achieve the one-third circulation they do. At that, Saturday Night, which prides itself on its Canadianism, in its new dress shows unmistakably an American influence.

Canadian magazines are bought because they are written by Canadians for Canadians. Their quality has improved enormously in recent years. But none of them can compare with the United States periodicals in sheer bulk in content—nor will they be able to until the Canadian population has grown sufficiently to support its cost.

Bus Franchise

The request by the Newmarket Bus Lines for exclusive rights to operate a bus service in Newmarket is entirely reasonable and should be granted by the vote next Monday. It is feared by some that the granting of a franchise will permit a bus operation entirely to the convenience of the operators and with no regard for the requirements of the passengers. Nothing could be more mistaken. The town council has first approved the terms of the franchise, and that approval has been endorsed by the Municipal Board. The terms of the franchise make it very clear that the service to the customers must be maintained. The penalty is the cancellation of the franchise.

The Newmarket Bus Lines is at present licensed annually by the town. A competing bus service could operate in Newmarket too, simply by taking out a license and starting the service. The establishment of a bus service is, however, a costly undertaking. The Newmarket Bus Lines wishes to expand to the advantage of the public, but at great risk to the owners unless they have exclusive rights to operate in Newmarket. Increased service would be a poor investment, from the operators' standpoint, if they risked at any time the competition of a rival service.

The principle involved in the granting of a franchise to a transportation company is recognized in most municipalities; the Newmarket Bus Lines' request for the franchise is not unusual. They are simply following sound business practice. The passengers' rights are protected by council supervision. The advantages are in improved bus service.

Office Cat reports Catnips By Ginger

I have listened to a lot of nomination speeches in the last week and I figured that what the candidates needed was a smart publicity stunt here and there. The candidates get up on the platforms and smiling at the audience, modestly tell people that they will do this or that or their best.

I have offered my services as publicity agent for a number of them. "What you need, my man, is the Ginger touch in this here campaign," I would say but I only receive polite and modest refusals.

I say that big hocus pocus exhibitions of mass trickery is the only thing to intrigue the public.

They say that the methods of the highly organized "lobbies" that infest Washington today and maybe Ottawa, are really little more than publicity stunts like Barnum the circus man started.

A sudden deluge of thousands of taxpayers' letters on senatorial desks in the midst of debate on controversial measures does not just happen spontaneously. Some master publicity agent like myself is pulling the strings. I have read of informed commentators who say that the "spontaneous public clamor" for Wendell Wilkie at the 1940 Republican Convention had been planned step by step, and minute by minute, at a banker's residence six months ahead of time.

If only a candidate would listen to me and make use of some of these techniques. Like the publicity agent who made the first Tarzan picture fought for. Before the nth rate picture was released, a man named T. R. Zann with a beard registered at a hotel in New York. A piano was hoisted to his room inside of which was a toothless old lion. Mr. Zann ordered quantities of meat to his room. "There's a live lion up there," screamed a waiter and Mr. Zann led the lion through the hotel lobby. Three old ladies fainted dead away, the management called the police and Mr. T. R. Zann and his lion received reams of front-page publicity in every paper in town. By the time the red-faced editors discovered it was all a publicity stunt for a fifth rate movie, nothing could be done about it. When the picture opened, crowds fought to get in, it is said.

I suggested to one candidate that he associate with an ape and have dinner with it at a local restaurant and see how many people would notice that it was not just one of his friends. I assured him that there would be ample coverage in my column but he seemed to take offence to any such suggestion.

The making of mead in England, which we have mentioned before, a centuries-old Cornish industry that has recently been revived, is now earning dollars. A distillery has been set up at the village of Gulval, traditionally associated with mead-making. About a quarter million bottles have been brewed this year but next year this is to be increased to half a million. Seventy-five percent of the output is being sent abroad to earn dollars and other hard currency. Another distillery to make mead liquors and mead brandy will go into production next year, it is said. Mead itself is a fermented liquor having honey as its main ingredient. It is not unlike Moselle wine in taste, though rather stronger.

Poverty, waste, taxation and splendor was the start of the decline of the great empires, Babylon, Mead, Persia, Greece, Rome. The people were taxed so heavily that they had to take more from the land than they put back. The natural coverage, the forest was cut off, and erosion of the soil began. The start of all the trouble began when there was too much demand from the soil.

Are we here in Canada taking too great a toll from the top six inches of soil? Who is at fault? Is it the farmer who wants a large bank account, or robs the soil and bush land that their children may have a higher education? Or is it the businessman that takes all the tariff will stand; or the consumer that demands a low food policy? We know what did happen to other countries that did not look well to the soil.

With the new trend of education, the main thought should be conservation, to teach our school children not to waste, that all food clothing and shelter comes from the soil. Is it the teaching in our schools of the past that is at fault?

Some 40 years ago one boy would get the problem right, the teacher would encourage the other children to work hard and compete. This had the effect of making the smart child think he was a little better. The smart child called the games to be played in the schoolyard and who should play. The whole system was set up to get a good education in order to get a good job with no thought for anyone else.

In looking over the report of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, we find its leaders were taught in the old school, everyone for himself. The report says that too much is spent on social security, too high taxation, goes on to tell about farmers, labor, communism, trade and the dollar should be freed. Taking a glance back at 1938-1939 business profits as compared with 1948-1949 profits, we can see no reason for complaint.

The Women's Institute convention is in numbers the largest held in Toronto. Their creed is better citizenship. They have added conservation plans and are now underway to have a school of instruction on conservation for the ladies. These women are alert and know the danger we are running into.

We are told the world population is increasing at the rate of two millions per year. There is no way of knowing how much erosion of soil in the world takes from our food supply. Unless we look well to supplying food to the people of the world we cannot hope for a lasting peace. The statement was heard at that ladies' convention that men have made a mess of running our country's business. Here are men and women taught in the same school. One group is thinking of profits and taxation, the other is thinking of conservation and increasing our food supply that the nations of the world may be fed. To the farmers of North York—if your wife, daughters or sister, or any woman in your household does not belong to the Women's Institute—see that they join. If your women folk do belong, see that they attend even if you have to stop your work to take them.

We men pass motions, appoint committees, and mostly mark time. At least we can back up the women. They came from every country in Ontario, over 1,000 strong. One man said, at his home, his wife gave him Women's Institute at every meal. We can't get the men to take an interest, so we will have to step aside and help the ladies! Cheerio.

Hospital For Sick Children Seeks $4 Million To Complete New Wing

BY GREGORY CLARK

THAT Safe 200 Miles

No part of the world's surface is safer for childhood than the radius of a couple of hundred miles or so from an old, red brick, tangled sort of building with some stained glass windows in front, in down town Toronto. It is an institution known to the nursing profession as "the Sick Kids."

The Hospital for Sick Children is not merely world-famous for its research work in children's diseases; it has reached its glorious tentacles to all parts of the earth in the physical presence—in China, Africa, all over Europe and Asia—of doctors and nurses trained right within its crowded old wards. They come—and they have come for years past—from all over the world to train in the techniques and skills developed right there in the heart of that two hundred mile circle of Ontario which, for childhood, is possibly the safest zone in the whole creation.

Since the hospital's training school for nurses was organized in 1886—eleven years after the hospital was founded—1,258 nurses have been graduated from "the Sick Kids" (that is strictly nurses' language).

Twelve hundred women have been graduated and fed back into the population of Canada with all the knowledge and skills of the famous hospital. Some of them continued nursing for years. Others married and have families of their own. But every one of them has been a mighty factor in the spread of child health in this country. Yet 1,258 nurses graduated in 63 years seemed to me, when I got the figures, to be not as many as I expected. When you consider 75 percent of all doctors specializing in children's diseases in Canada were trained in the Hospital for Sick Children, the number of nurses graduated might be expected to be greater. But at this moment, the nursing staff of the hospital, with its 320 beds (the new hospital will have 632 beds) consists as follows: 96 full time graduate nurses; 17 part time graduates; 109 nurses in training; and 110 affiliate nurses in training.

Do you see that little word affiliate? From 15 affiliated hospitals and nurses' training schools in Ontario, from Lindsay, Barrie, Stratford, 15 cities and towns all over the province, 110 nurses are taking their training in children's diseases and surgery, as against the 109 in training as prospective graduates of "the Sick Kids." In addition, the nursing staff includes post-graduate students of nursing from Europe, Asia and South America. Ladies and gentlemen, it is not a Toronto hospital; it is not an Ontario hospital; it is a world hospital. Not your children, not our children, but just children are its eternal vigilance.

When the new hospital is opened (and paid for! Come all ye!) its bed capacity will be doubled; its training capacity will be more than doubled; its product of young physicians and surgeons dedicated to childhood will be many times increased; its research labs, its travelling clinics—everything will be expanded. This little 200-mile zone around Toronto, already the safest for childhood in all the world, will be that much safer still. But the zone will expand, too, and the quality of mercy that has been emanating from that old red brick building on College St. will warm farther and wider, wider and farther.

The Ontario-wide campaign for funds to complete the new Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto began November 21. Committees in nearly every city, town and township are again asking public subscription for $4,000,000 to complete the project started four years ago.

In 1945, at the time of the first, a tremendous load on existing facilities. In spite of the slogan "Where no child knocks in vain" would cost about $7,500,000. The sum of $8,000,000 was raised, but since then building costs have risen so tremendously to day's estimates place the value of the same building at $12,000,000. The campaign will continue until the end of the year or until Ontario's rapidly rising population—500,000 since 1941—places the objective is reached.

Yours Is The 'Great Brown Fist'

Pain and trouble are in every life yet those of us whose passing years have had the sunshine mixed with sorrow, and still are heartened by a hundred happy memories, can stand adversity to some degree and have faith in tomorrow being a better day.

What, though, of poor little fellows struck down to cots of pain before they know what life can be about? Pale, small chaps and little girls for whom the golden span of childhood is something heard afar off in the rumble of the happy, noisy streets or from the distant fields of green.

Boyhood of the high adventurous dreams of those of us who could sail with Jim Hawkins for Treasure Island, on a neighborhood pond, or drift down the Mississippi with Huck Finn and Jim (in our minds at least) upon a home-made raft; boyhood with its rugby and its shinny and the school yard fights can never be recaptured, true enough. Yet you know, and I know, that once enjoyed it is a shining thing that neither fate nor misfortune can ever take away from us.

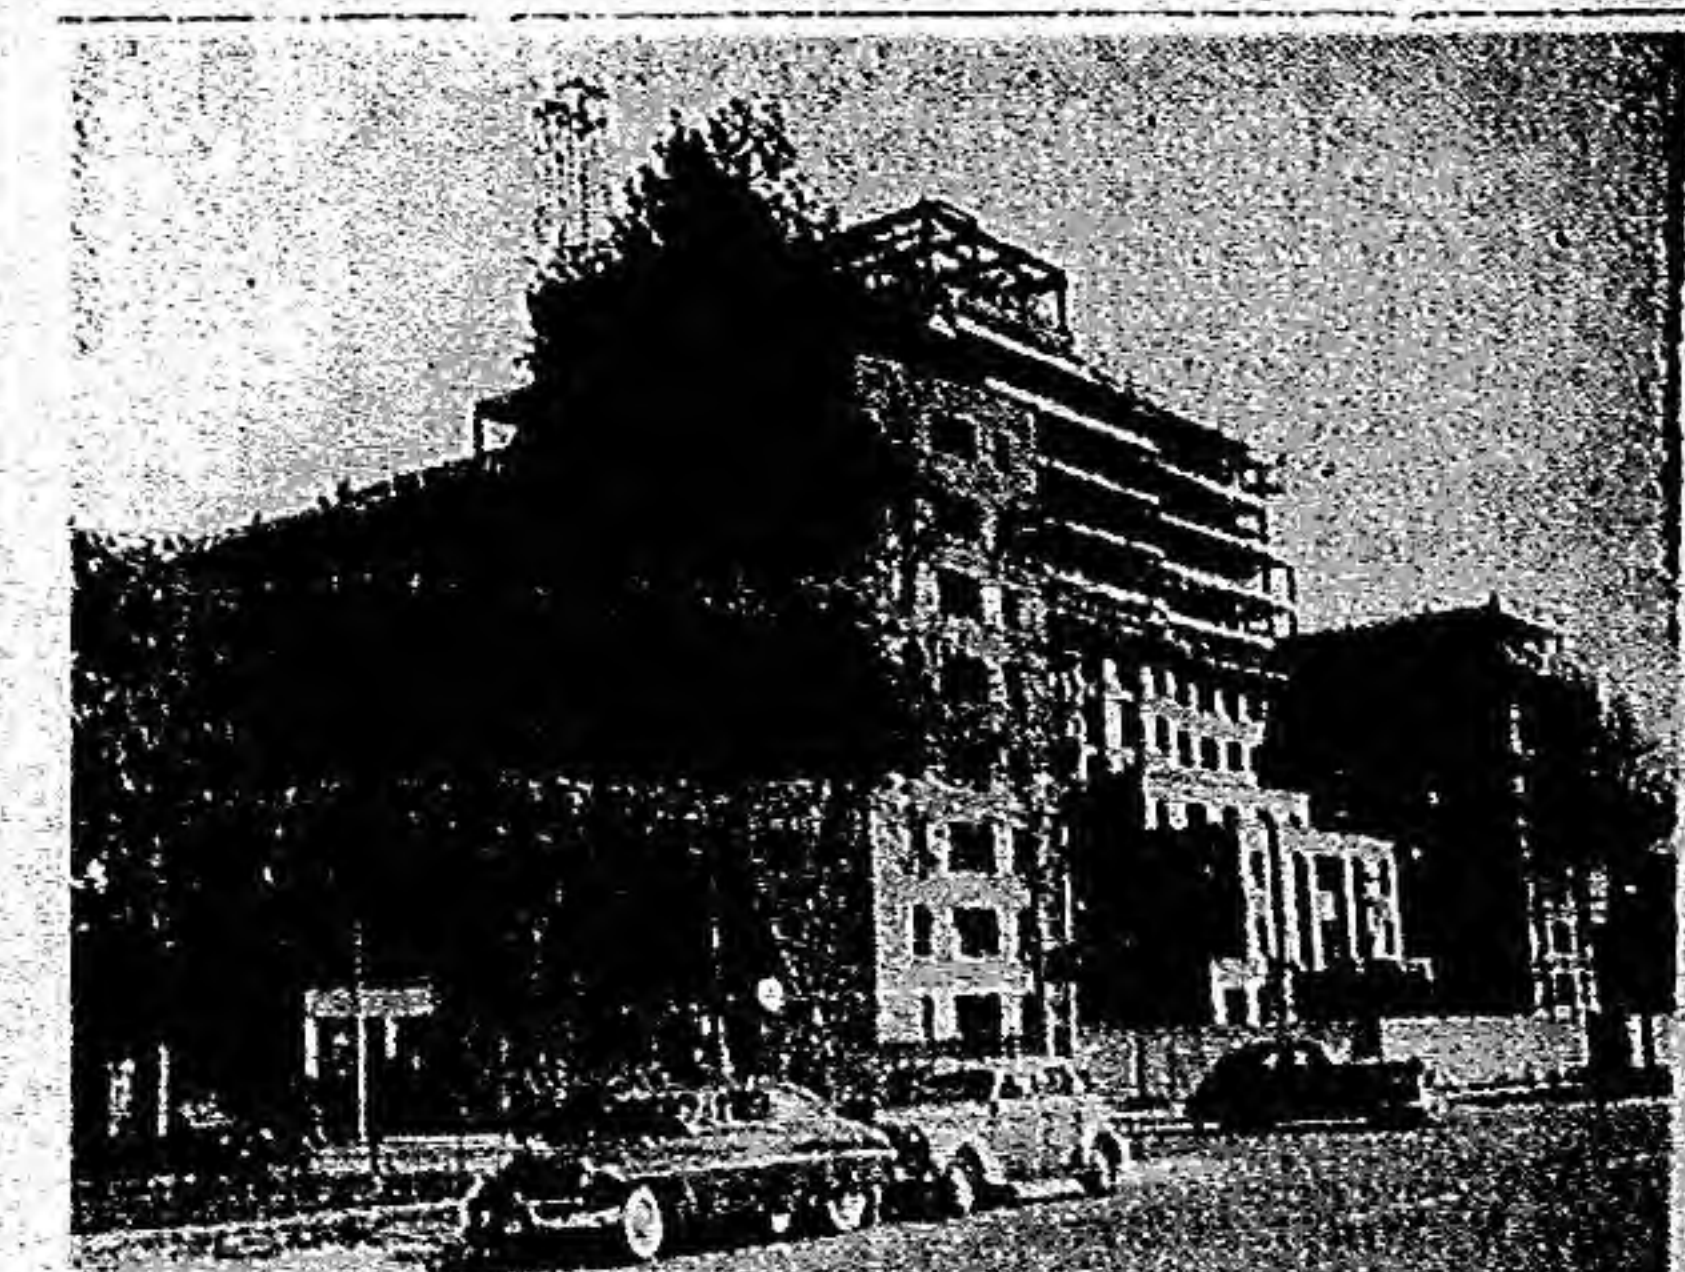

Do you recall that part of Tom Brown's School-days in which fever had broken out in school and Tom's little friend, Arthur, has just barely recovered from the dread malady and Tom is finally allowed in to see him:

"Arthur laid his thin white hand, on which the blue veins stood out so plainly, on Tom's great brown fist and smiled at him; and then looked out the windows again as though he couldn't bear to lose a moment of the sunset, into the tops of the great, feathery elms, round which the rooks were circling and clanging, returning in flocks from their evening's foraging parties. The elms rustled, the sparrows in the ivy chirped and fluttered about, quarreling, and making it up again; the rooks young and old talked in a chorus, and the merry shouts of the boys and the sweet click of the cricket bat came up cheerily from below."

It is a lovely bit because the hope is there. The sick lad has recovered. He will be well and soon will join the work and play of a boy's long day, so full of oh-so-many things. Hope can be there too for our own small friends if only we who are the strong and well will hold their hands with "our great brown fists." For surely the goodness and mercy of the Psalm will follow us in such a venture.

— Ted Reeve

PLANTS—all kinds of plants—need supplies to thrive on. This is true of plants in the garden, and true of plants which make articles of aluminum.

Vegetable plants draw their supplies from the soil and the air. The 1000 and more aluminum manufacturing plants across Canada draw theirs from us.

And just as different garden plants produce different leaves, flowers, roots and fruits, so these manufacturing plants shape our aluminum into a variety of useful forms—kitchen ware, garden tools, furniture, bodies for aeroplanes and trucks . . . all sorts of things which people want because they are light and economical.

We and these independent manufacturers make a team. They draw on us not only for aluminum but also for the technical services of our laboratories. And because we produce, here in Canada, a quarter of the world's aluminum, they are able to buy this metal at lower prices than anyone else anywhere.

A parting message to the stufunctions," was urged in the valedictory address delivered on behalf of the class of '49 by valedictorian June Adams.

Miss Adams, this year's winner of the Malcolm Wallace Scholarship and the John Stuart prize, expressed the nostalgia felt by the members of the graduating class on leaving "their school." Requesting forgiveness for "a little pride and self-satisfaction" on the part of the graduating class, Miss Adams spoke of their diplomas as "representing the goal of years of striving."

The varied activities available to students at the school were briefly recounted by Miss Adams, who expressed the thought that the principles found in high school could very well contribute to the solution of the world's problems.

Miss Adams also paid tribute to the high school staff who gave so unstintingly of their time and help.

some of the school's successes during the past year. The occasion was the Aurora high school's annual commencement and graduation program held Friday evening in the high school auditorium. Mr. Knowles was master of ceremonies for the evening.

Citing the successes of the high school in the field of music during the past year, Mr.
Knowles paid special tribute to Illyd Harris, school music instructor, who has spread the fame of Aurora choral groups far and wide.

Commenting on the outstanding athletic achievements of Au-

Knowles also mentioned the

Expect Start Of New A.H.S.
Coming Spring--Underhill.

"Building operations on the new Aurora high school are expected to start this coming spring, with the school ready for occupancy by January, 1951," announced F. R. Underhill as he presented this year's athletic awards during the Aurora high school's annual commencement exercises Friday evening.

Pointing out the increase in the school problem during the past few years, Mr.
Underhill told of the purchase of the new school site this past fall. "An architect has been engaged," said Mr. Underhill, "and the preliminary work is nearly completed."

"Canada has many serious problems that we are all trying to solve," said Mr.

Underhill in emphasizing the role of educated Canadian youth. "Our teenagers are in a position to help, for education prepares intelligent interest. Athletics are yearly providing a bigger part in the training of our young people, for they contribute competition, good health and discipline."

Mr. Underhill also presented Norman F. Johnson, member of the high school staff, with a pen and pencil set, as a token of apprecia-

NEED FOR
EDUCATED YOUTH
GREAT

Speaking at the annual commencement exercises of the Aurora high school held Friday evening, John Stuart, former graduate of the school, called upon Canadian youth to stick to Canada as the land of unlimited opportunity.

"You could not have graduated at a more opportune time," Mr. Stuart told the graduating class. "You are lucky. Canada is growing by leaps and bounds and offers unlimited possibilities."

Saying that Canada would lead the way, Mr. Stuart argued that Canada was on the verge of great development, while the United States has already hit its peak, as have the European countries. Mr. Stuart cited as examples of Canada's promising future the recent discovery and development of oil in Alberta and the tremendous find of iron ore in Labrador, "the richest and finest ever discovered anywhere in the world."

Mr. Stuart also stressed the need for educated youth in Canada's development. "There is no shortage of the pick-and-shovel guy," he said, "but there is a terrific shortage of executive help." Continuing his "stick-to-Canada" theme, Mr.
Stuart remarked on the necessity in the past for Canadians to go to the States if they wished to get ahead.

"This is not the case now," he said. "You should stick to Canada," he advised, "for there are terrible jobs open in every line of endeavor." Mr. Stuart left a final thought with the graduating class. "Capital is expendable," he stated. "Ideas are not expendable, and its ideas that count."

- An end to the wasteful operation of scattered municipal buildings when all municipal services could be placed under the roof of a central municipal building.
- An end to the expensive annual oiling and graveling of dirt roads when a permanent top could be put on them economically.
- An end to broken and cracked sidewalks.
- A sewage disposal plant to end the contamination of our streams.

Why We Ask You To Vote 'YES' To The Question:

ARE YOU IN FAVOR OF THE TOWN OF NEWMARKET GRANTING A TEN-YEAR FRANCHISE TO THE NEWMARKET BUS LINES?

On Monday, December 5, Newmarket citizens will be asked to vote on the question: "Are you in favor of the Council of the Corporation of the Town of Newmarket granting to Lawrence Needler and Early Ruthven (proprietors of the Newmarket Bus Lines), a franchise to operate and maintain buses within the corporate limits of the Town of Newmarket for a period of ten years from January 1st, 1950."

What does this franchise mean?

It means that, if granted, no other bus line can be operated in Newmarket. At the present time, Newmarket Bus Lines is licensed by the town council of Newmarket. If he pays his license fee, another operator could start a bus line here too. If the franchise is granted, Newmarket Bus Lines would be the exclusive operators of a bus service in Newmarket.

Why do we want a franchise?

Because we are prepared to invest heavily to give better service to Newmarket bus passengers. It will take time, however, before we can earn this investment back. We need

The Newmarket Bus Lines asks your approval of the granting of a franchise because it means better working conditions for the company and better service for you. If a franchise is granted we plan to start an east-west service along Gorham St. as soon as Muriel Ave. is extended to Gorham St.

Candidates Discuss Spending In '50

Reports of the nomination addresses of candidates for Newmarket town council and public school board follow. They have, of necessity, been paraphrased so that as much as possible could be reported on behalf of each candidate. Where candidates were absent from nomination, a statement has been secured and included herein.

FOR MAYOR

J. Allan Perks: This nomination comes as a great surprise to me. I believe, however, that one who stands here should have something concrete to offer. I haven't and I don't intend to qualify.

Joseph Vale: "It's an honor to be nominated again, and I will do my best to live up to it. It seems to me, at times, that Newmarket is divided into two factions: those who tell the mayor what to do and those who tell him what not to. There will be, without doubt, a substantial increase in the debenture debt next year. I want to thank the great legion of interested people who have made the artificial ice project a success.

One of the accomplishments of this year was the provision of a pension and insurance fund for town employees. Councils of the past years have held the debenture debt down in the face of many demands and great pressure to spend on town projects.

REEVE

Arthur D. Evans: I appreciate my acclamation and will do my best to deserve it. There is talk that county councils are old-fashioned. There are 52 members in York county council and they are divided into committees. I was on the finance and hospitalization committees. In the last five years, Messrs. Lundy, Spillette and myself have been able to get from the county $25,000 in capital grants and for two years, $2,000 annual maintenance grants and the last three years, $5,000 annual maintenance grants for York County hospital.

I have been a member of the water committee of Newmarket council. This year to date we have installed 80 new services. There are now 1,353 meters installed including 110 commercial and 25 industrial meters. The town is now 75 percent metered and the remaining 25 percent is being done. In ten months, we pumped for Newmarket 113,627,800 gals. of water, a daily average of 373,000 gals. We can't do without water and we had to spend a good deal more than we liked looking for it. But finding it at the foot of Main St. where we have a well which can pump 200 gals a minute means a great saving on pipes. We don't intend to stop there. We have three or four propositions for more water.

We have a stand-by gas engine for the Cotter St. well so that if the electrical pump has to be shut off, we will not be without a pump.

Sidewalks are a big problem and we are agreed that the large stretches must be put in by contractors. Six to 8,000 ft. were laid this year. We must start earlier in the year. Sidewalks are associated with postal delivery. We all want postal delivery and we must stick to it until we get it. Everyone is agreed that roads are a big problem. We must get them fixed. We have the data now if council is ready to start. We can get rebates from the government on certain roads. Plans have been drawn for a municipal building. We need a public library building. Think what an educational advantage it would be. We're in a position today where we can afford to go ahead with it.

I want to comment on the fine community spirit shown in the work at the arena and of two of our council members, Paynter and VanZant, who worked right along with the rest. It has been a wonderful demonstration.

DEPUTY REEVE

J. L. Spillette: Meetings like this should be held every six months, instead of once a year, so that the public will know from their representatives what they are doing. The council, although called dilatory, has been extremely busy. We have had a successful financial year. Our debenture debt as of November 15 was $127,000. Since then there have been additions, including the artificial ice debenture which will bring it up to $168,000 at the end of the year. To come are debentures for sidewalks, sewers, the new school, the well, which will total $239,000 for a total next year of $407,000. On the school, there will be a rebate of about half the total cost. Compare this amount, $407,000 on our present assessment of $3,928,000 with the debenture debt of 1926 of $533,000 on an assessment of only $2,200,000.

Worry about debentures is uncalled for. They are checked by the municipal board to see that we don't borrow beyond our ability to pay. Heavy expenditures ahead including the construction of a sewage disposal plant. We can no longer contaminate the stream running through our town to the detriment of our neighbors to the north. Must look this issue squarely in the face.

The industrial assessment currently is $752,027 as against $528,000 last year. Industry appears to be paying its share.

As chairman of the House of Refuge committee of county council, I did considerable work on behalf of a plan to increase and modernize accommodation at the home at Yonge and Eagle Sts. An expenditure of close to $1 million is involved over a period of time. When completed, the accommodation at the home will be increased from 82 to 180-200 people.

R. C. Morrison: It has been a most busy year during which I attended 34 council meetings and 43 other committee meetings including those meetings of the board of health, rink and fire and police committees. Paid tribute to the fire brigade, with particular reference to the chief, Joe Brammer, 18 years on the brigade, and deserving of a tremendous amount of credit. Praised Art Ainsley for his work as well. Believed a full time man necessary, both for fire and police.

Police department was very expensive but necessary. Policing could be done by the county, saving the taxpayers the direct burden of cruisers and radio. Newmarket police made 808 calls, 139 prisoners were lodged in the cells, 153 summonses laid by Newmarket men for highway and liquor violations. Newmarket force in sufficient strength for parking meters. Some for them, some against the meters, but they deserve a fair trial. Paid tribute to Chief Burbridge as an efficient chief.

Sixty-eight by-laws were passed, most of them contentious, and requiring a good deal of thought and debate.

Board of Health, on which I have served three years, is not given the credit it should be. At present it is undertaking the diabetic survey with excellent results. Newmarket was chosen because it was most representative of Canada's population. I congratulate Ern and Express for grand job. Credit to council and credit to paper that council meetings fully and fairly reported. Gave credit too, to Newmarket representatives of county council for their active role in municipal affairs.

COUNCIL

Rudy Renzius: The town council has done a tremendous

Nomination Audience Late Arriving

There were only 15 people present when the Newmarket nomination meeting was opened by Clerk Wesley Brooks at 7.30 on Friday night. By 8 p.m., there were 60 present and when the nominations closed, there were 131.

Last year, an estimated crowd of 300 attended the meeting. Fred Lundy, long-time reeve and former warden, was chairman, a job he has performed faithfully since retiring from active politics.

amount of work during the year, the results of which will be felt for years after. As a member of your council, I have had my share in this work. It is my hope that, if returned to office, we can rise above the details which have held our attention, and spend more thought upon the broader aspects of Newmarket's development. The council should be a policy-making body. It has town employees to do the actual work. Our fault last year was that too much time was devoted to the small things, the details which should be easily settled, and not enough time spent in charting Newmarket's future. If returned to office, I shall do my best to contribute towards that kind of leadership.

N. P. Kelly: Said he was uncertain whether he would stand but that if he did, he would do his utmost.

Aubrey Seythes: Fourth time I have appeared on the nomination platform. Every candidate should give real reason for being on platform. I am a young married man with family. Consider it my solemn duty to do all I can to make Newmarket secure in the future. I wish every young man had enough interest to offer himself. Learned fundamentals of municipal life the hard way. If elected, I will do everything in my power to make Newmarket a place my children can be proud of.

Jos. O. Dales: I intend to stand for council. Have had a steady diet of municipal politics since a boy. Had my education and am back in the home town. I like it, intend to stay. Want to study the town problems and offer whatever assistance I am capable of. Am 31 years old—leaves me 20 years to devote to the town. I have studied municipal law and can give assistance in town problems.

Tom Birrell: This is my third year as member. I was chairman of property committee. Garbage collection paying its way so far. Hope we can have municipal building in which to incorporate all the needs of the town with one heating plant. We can dispose of the clerk's office. Renovate this building (town hall), walls are good. At present time the blueprints are being prepared. We must spend on sidewalks and roads, sewage disposal plant, certainly need new library. Which is to come first? Labor costs are not getting any cheaper.

Had intended to quit this year but want to see municipal building accomplished, and will work hard for it. We don't have to have a Main St. building. The clerk's office building could be sold for business and taxes collected on it as a business site. Lots of things to be done but had to have revenue for them first.

Chas. VanZant: Been a highly informative year. Can't talk unless you know what you are talking about. The town has suffered in the past from the procrastination of other councils. Public's fault — never come to nomination meetings. Have to have these things which we should have had before. Have to have sewage disposal plant or else. We have to face these things. No use passing the buck from year to year. We have to spend $100,000 on roads. Might as well face it.

This hall is a disgrace. How can we sell our town to out-of-town industries and residents with miserable streets, sidewalks and buildings? Can't be done.

Would like to see swimming pool built. Spent money taking kids to lake a few years ago. Should be spent in town providing our own swimming pool. Member of parking meters committee, proud of it. What Newmarket needs is it to be shopping centre. Room for 50 cars on Main St. Friday. Our debenture debt is low compared to our assessment. Let us have the things we need now while we can enjoy them. We can spend a lot and won't effect our tax rate particularly.

I have supported artificial ice, been glad to lend my time and effort to bring it to successful completion. It says a lot for the community spirit of Newmarket that this project can be undertaken and carried through to a successful conclusion.

Lorne Paynter: Inclined to agree with Meyer (editor) about roads and sidewalks. But those things take time. With Reeve Evans 100 percent in resurfacing roads. Taken as whole, council had successful year, with the new school and artificial ice now reality. Thanked those who gave so freely of their time for ice project. Laid 8,000 ft. of new walks, repaired 2,200 ft. more than done before. Spent $5,000 on road oil. Could be put to better use resurfacing roads. Had a part in parking meters. Believe them worth a trial, and will turn traffic over, end all-day parking problem. Thousands of dollars lost because through traffic had no place to park. Instrumental in having Main and Timothy Sts. widened. Burbridge a capable man. Need cruiser instead of paying taxi fares. There have been complaints that no one answered calls to police station, not the fault of policemen who were on the street. Need a clerk to handle calls. Eight municipalities use court house, should contribute towards upkeep, pay rent of $25 month each. Should be greater enforcement of dogs by-law.

Firemen work under difficulties. Have had new truck for some time but it must be kept at foot of Main St. Old truck and rest of equipment on top of hill. New firehall required as fitting town this size.

Frank Bowser: Tenth year in council. Spent $2,000 in snow removal last year and kept the streets in good condition. Town engineer spent many hours getting levels so work could begin on streets. Must consider storm sewers as well. Ready now to call for tenders for widening and improving streets. Not only $5,000 spent on road oil but $2,500 in gravel too, money which could be used for permanent improvements to streets. Ready for program on dirt roads.

Road through to Gorham St. from camp area underway, held but by property difficulties, hope to complete it next year. This would give bus service along Gorham St. Bus operators are anxious to improve service. Opened Lorne Ave. a few years ago and glad it was done when it is seen how it is building up.

Had plenty of complaints about Main St. on Thursday and Friday but county plows do not come on the job until December 1. Couldn't get usual plow, finally used tractor-plow. Road is clear now.

Mrs. Violet Robinson MacNaughton: I feel that members of council should be interested in the individual taxpayers, give them the same attention without prejudice. I am seeking election with that intention, to give all the taxpayers the same concern, instead of recognizing only pressure groups or special interests.

Mayor Raps Attendance Armistice Service

In the coming year, we must take steps to be sure the importance of the observance of Armistice is brought home to school children, said Mayor Vale. He was commenting on the small crowd that joined in the Armistice Day service at the cenotaph on November 11. "There were no children present. There was apparently nothing to focus their attention upon the significance of the day," he said. When making his nomination speech, Mrs. N. L. Mathews, seeking re-election as member of the school board, in reference to the mayor's remarks, said that Nov. 11 was a school, bank and legal holiday and that on the day before, remembrance services had been held in all the schools and attended by all pupils.

Newmarket Needs Progressive Leadership

There should be proper town planning including a definite program to encourage industry to locate here. The approaches to Newmarket should be better lit. A businessmen's association is required to stimulate the development of Newmarket as shopping and business centre. Our municipal buildings should be renovated; Newmarket given a "new" look in keeping with its size and importance. I will work for these requirements.

As member of the Board of Health, the Memorial Arena committee, and past chairman of the recreation committee, I have sought to serve Newmarket. I was chairman of the committee responsible for the parking meters, visible evidence of a firm intention to continue to work towards a final solution of Newmarket's parking and traffic problems.

As Member of Council for North Gwillimbury in 1950 Since 1922 I have given the township 200 or more assessments. This means thousands of dollars paid in taxes. My desire is to continue to obtain these assessments and against interests that seek to stop my efforts for their own interest.

Re ROADS & TRAFFIC—The Lake Shore Boulevard or Radial Road is the Township's greatest asset and needs work done on same in preparation for a very important highway that will open up thousands more building sites and relieve the narrow, dangerous Lake Shore Road of half the traffic and also open all connecting roads which the Township owns to the shore of Lake Simcoe. The Lake Shore Road is only a Tourist and Pleasure road and once a highway always a highway.

If elected, or not, I will work for the continued revenue and development of the Township.

Property, Roads North Gwill. Issues

William King, who was acclaimed North Gwillimbury township's reeve last Friday afternoon at Belhaven Hall, told the attending ratepayers that the council had overspent its approved by-law. He added that nearly every municipality in the province had done the same.

"We set aside $10,000 of our approved budget of $35,000 to pave the Lake Shore road from Jackson's Point to Willow Beach," he said, "but it cost us $3,000 to $4,000 more than we anticipated. Although we overspent our budget, we are saving money with a better road," the reeve declared.

Referring to greater taxes, he said that the county levy was much higher including costs of schools, hospitals, and roads. In that is included $7,000 for secondary education. He stated that the general tax rate is up which also includes a school rate. "Next year we will have one levy. At present we are paying for 1948 and 1949. Next year we will only be paying for 1950," he said.

"We received a boost in the assessment equalization and spent $500 fighting it. On the advice of the solicitor, we dropped the appeal because of high costs. We were not the only ones who appealed and dropped the appeal." After that we went to the municipal board. They control us yet when it comes to a problem, they won't touch it.

"Owing to our appeal, there will be some change. I can't tell you what it is," he said. North Gwillimbury has a large number of summer residences and in the equalization of assessments, the summer residences were classed as residences.

"The health unit naturally will cost money but it is guaranteed not to go over one mill," Mr King declared.

DEPUTY REEVE

The two nominations for deputy reeve were John Louis Doyle and R. J. Pollock. Mr. Doyle was absent from the meeting because of sickness in the family. His nominator, Mr. Sandy Wallwick, stated that Mr. Doyle had been on council for six years, five as a councillor and one year as deputy-reeve.

"He was on two committees of the county council, one of which was to work for a medical centre. He is the most logical man to continue as deputy-reeve," said Mr. Wallwick. Mrs. Mary Munroe, who also spoke for Mr. Doyle, said "I think it is the duty of every woman as well as man to take an active interest in municipal affairs instead of sitting at home grumbling about what the council does."

R. J. Pollock said that he was not in sympathy with acclamations but that he was well satisfied with Mr. King as reeve.

"Daily we are called upon to serve in some way. I have been persuaded to offer myself as a public servant. That's the only basis on which I offer myself," said Mr. Pollock. "We must have a spirit of tolerance toward public affairs. The township of North Gwillimbury is on the map and has a reputation. Today we must look to the future. At least one qualification I claim is to co-operate and consider the opinions of others," he said.

COUNCILLORS

Nominated for six council positions were Stanley A. Breuls, Mrs. Arlene Link, George Lamont, John W. Mallabon, Cecil D. Prosser, Charles Richardson and Clark W. Martin.

Stanley Breuls said that he had taken some of his own problems to council before and received no action. "The railway road which has been called Lakeshore Blvd. should be improved and it would pay for itself," he said. "The present lakeshore road is too narrow to take care of all the traffic. There is also a big fight on now by the property owners around the lake and I think that should be settled," said Mr. Breuls.

Mrs. Arlene Link, who is the first woman to run in North Gwillimbury, stated that her main ambition was to work out unity between the Lakeshore residents and the farmers in the other parts of the township. "Each group thinks the other group is getting more money spent in its part of the township," she declared. "It is time we started to get some unity and understanding."

"One reason we on the Lakeshore get the oil on the roads or the snow plow in the winter is because we continue to yell, yell, phone, phone and nag, nag, nag. There are things we haven't been able to get though. I thought with a lot of hard work, I might be able to do something on council, and see that everyone in the township gets the same fair deal."

"We must also consider the township jobs. We must consider the honor roll and get some of the veterans on civic jobs. Sometimes the older men should make room for the younger ones to step in."

"There must be no whispering and muttering in council when motions are passed. We want to get the people interested in public affairs and hear what is going on. We want to know what motions are being passed in council. And there must be the same treatment of farmers and the Lakeshore 'city people.' If we get road oil, they should get it too wherever possible."

J. A. Mathews, a lake property owner who nominated Mrs. Link, said that he had been at council for the last six months but could not get proper action in particular cases of his own personal interest. "We tried to get a parking by-law along Bayview Drive as it is called now. This was not successful and some of us put posts and stones along the road to keep parkers off," said Mr. Mathews who has been a property owner at Orchard Beach for 42 years.

J. Sedore and Dan Menar both spoke on behalf of candidate George Lamont from Jackson's Point. Mr. Menar said that there should be a member of council from that part of the township. Mr. Lamont, noting Mrs. Munroe's suggestion for Charles Richardson as a representative from east of the sixth concession, said, "Perhaps if Charlie and I get in, you people would get the best two men."

John W. Mallabon said, "I live just north of Keswick. I served a quarter of a century on the Toronto police force and ten years before that in the army and know something of serving for the people. I can say that I will do the best I can if I am elected," he said.

Clark W. Martin said that he had done the best he could last year for council. "I was appointed chairman of the road commission and there was a lot of work to do," he said. "I would never have taken the job if I had known what it would be like and I want someone else to take it this year."

"We undertook to repave the shore road for nearly three and a half miles at a cost of $13,000 which we had planned to do for $10,000. While we started to put a two-inch gravel and tar surface on, we were advised to put a three-inch surface on the road. He also indicated that work had been done for one and a half miles on the sixth concession and also at Boyer's crossing."

"The road workers have given good service; they are good honest men," said Mr. Martin. "I have had 34 official visits with my own car and at my own expense. I had three official visits for three full afternoons from a department of lands and forests official. I am 100 percent for a united township; no matter what part there is in the township, I have no animosity against anyone," he said.

Heated outbursts followed Mr. Martin's address between Mr. J.

Four Candidates Vie For School Board

SCHOOL TRUSTEES

Mrs. Madeleine Mathews: I am running again, seeking a third term. Believe the school board has served faithfully and done an exceptionally fine job. The board is pleased with the progress of the new school and if elected, I promise to do a good job.

Mrs. C. W. Curtis: A Forest Hill Village school is being built

A. Mathews and Mr. Martin. Mr. Martin claimed that there had been prejudice shown by the road commission when posts and stones he and a neighbor erected on the lakeshore Bayview Drive were torn out by the road commission. "Only these were taken out and other fences, gates and hedges were left along the road side," declared Mr. Mathews. He demanded to know what the reason was. "If my stones and posts must go, others along the road must go," he said.

Mr. Martin said that he did what he was told and the reeve gave assurance that the council had ordered the posts and stones removed.

Cecil D. Prosser, a candidate for council, said "It is too bad the trouble has occurred about the stones. These people along the lakeshore do try to beautify their grounds. Driving along that road, I was not even able to miss a concrete culvert and a bad accident resulted," he said. "Yet I am with you there, Mr. Mathews. I think that everybody should be used alike. The stones and posts must go."

"Any councillor should take a drive from any or all of the ratepayers by deputation or otherwise. We have more than stones and posts to consider along that road. There are scrub apple trees, hedges and many others. As Mrs. Link says, keep nagging, nagging and you will get something done," said Mr. Prosser.

Speaking of old and new blood on the council, he said, "My father taught me to hitch a colt with an old horse. The horse should not be too old of course. We should get a good combination."

Said Charles Richardson, "I am on the other side of the township but just as interested in the stones as Mr. Mathews is. If the people do their part in the election, I will do mine in the coming year."

alright, but feel that much better care could be taken to maintain present schools at a higher standard. School board is not giving us what we want or need. Why must we go to Forest Hill for a school for Newmarket? I am not against new school but want a school in keeping with Newmarket and a school best for the kids. Met with bitter criticism when questioned new school project. Husband's place of employment visited because of criticism. Want ratepayers to know why people do not criticize if that happens.

There are 63 out-of-town pupils. Newmarket schools overcrowded by 34. Do not have to take out-of-town pupils if schools overcrowded. Wings were advised on the old schools. New school means five schools with increase in cost of maintenance. There are 152 pre-school children in Armitage Heights area, only 32 in camp area. All the facts not out. Hope in this way to bring facts out.

Mrs. M. B. Seldon: We have begun a job in the building of the new school and I seek reelection so that I may have the opportunity to finish that job. We have every confidence that the school will serve the purpose for which it is intended and at a cost comparable to those in other centres. Every detail of the planning, choice of site and cost was checked by the department of education, which pays a heavy percentage of the cost.

Thomas Gillespie: "I have found 1949 a most enjoyable session of working on the Newmarket public school board and I thoroughly endorse the plans and administration put forth by the board in the past year. The new school is a necessity and will be an asset to the town of Newmarket. I do not think the job could be done cheaper for building materials or equipment. Maintenance costs will be very low by comparison with other schools with comparable accommodation."

Morrison Commends Co-Operation In Survey

Reference was made by R. C. Morrison, council member of the board of health, to the work the board has undertaken during the year with particular reference to the diabetic survey now nearing completion. "The survey has had excellent co-operation to date, a fact which is a credit to the board and to the town," he said. Newmarket was chosen for the survey because it was considered a representative Canadian town in terms of population distribution, and the survey "is something in which we can all take a good deal of pride."

Cantatas and operas differ in that a cantata is a musical drama sung without costume, scenery or action, while those things are present in an opera.

OTTAWA LETTER

by

"Jack" Smith, M.P.
North York

The government hopes to conclude the business of this session some time next week and with that objective ahead morning, afternoon and night sessions are held daily including Saturday. The second session is likely to be called about February 1 so that some business may be laid over without causing too serious delay.

The minister of reconstruction has a bill before the house to encourage and assist in the construction of the trans-Canada highway. This project is one for which there has long been a popular demand and the government's action now is receiving support from all sides of the house. Highways of course are a provincial responsibility, but there has been a growing feeling in Canada that we should have one coast-to-coast highway.

Most provincial governments would have great difficulty in assuming alone the financial burden of completing a trans-Canada route to adequate standards, in addition to the demand for annual outlays covering capital expenditures and maintenance costs on their over-all highway systems. Under the circumstances, and because such a highway will have some national complexion, assistance from the federal government appears warranted.

When completed, the interprovincial, or trans-Canada route of approximately 5,000 miles should assist in the development of trade and of natural resources, as well as our tourist industry.

Chinese Proverb
H. A. MacKenzie, M.P. for Lambton-Kent, was a member of the house prior to 1945 but did not return in the 1945 election. In 1946 and 1947 he was with the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation organization in China. Last week he gave an interesting speech on conditions in China as he saw them at first hand. He closed his address with a Chinese proverb, which goes as follows:

"Where there is righteousness in the heart, there is beauty of character. Where there is beauty of character, there is harmony in the home. Where there is harmony in the home, there is order in the nation; and where there is order in the nation, there is peace in the world."

Newfoundland Names

Seven members from the new province of Newfoundland are interesting additions to the house. They are enthusiastic about the future of their province as a part of Canada and like nothing better than to tell about that interesting land down east. Talking to one of the members the other evening, he told me the odd names of places in the new province. Newfoundland boasts such place-names as: Horse Chops, Cape White Handkerchief, Ireland's Eye and Joe Batt's arm. Fishermen from Britain, France, Spain and Portugal gave the coasts and points around Newfoundland the names that now are the addresses for the hardy people living in the far-flung outposts of the new province.

Newfoundland has a Washeltorow, an Isle aux Morts, Point Engagee, Cul de Sac and Cinq Cerq. Also a Breakheart Point, Come-by-Chance, Happy Adventure, Heart's Desire, Heart's Content and Little Heart's Ease.

There are said to be at least 1,000 terms of speech peculiar to Newfoundland. Most have to do with the sea and ships and have been carried over into common usage. A braggart, for instance, is an "October Galer" a grave is a "long-home" grumbling is "mully-grubs" flattery "plaw-mush". A good man is "as fine a man as ever hove a gallus over his shoulder"; while a thief is "an honest man when there's only anchors on the shore".

Radio License Fees

The amount realized by the treasury from radio license fees reaches substantial proportions. The amount collected in fees for the year 1948-49 was $4,670,342.65. The cost of collection was $611,918.76, which includes $341,982 paid in commissions to local issuers.

Veterans' Allowances

Hon. Milton Gregg, V.C., minister of veterans' affairs advised the house this week that there are in Canada today 25,918 veterans in receipt of veterans' allowances.

How They Vote in Australia

On December 10 they are to hold a general election in Australia. It is expected that about 5,000,000 electors will vote. Most of them will do so because voting is compulsory. If there is no valid excuse for not voting, the delinquent pays a $5 fine. Cripples and sick people, and likewise Australians abroad or at sea on election day, may vote by mail. A voter away from his place of residence may deposit an "absent vote" at any polling station in Australia. November was the deadline for nominations. The new Australian parliament must meet not later than February 27, 1950. This time 122 members are to be elected instead of the present 75; the senate also be increased from 36 to 60.

The present labor government has a comfortable majority in both houses. The Liberals and the country party are in opposition.

'Knowledge Can Save Lives'

"Knowledge of the symptoms of cancer may save thousands of lives each year, which is the reason we must continue our educational program," said Mrs. Harry N. Glover, executive secretary of the Toronto branch, Canadian Cancer Society, in appealing to women's organizations to hear speakers from the society at their monthly meetings.

To make arrangements for the showing of films or for a speaker those interested are asked to contact Mrs. Glover at the Toronto women's committee offices, 916 Yonge St., or telephone RAndolph 6465.

The Toronto women's committee is anxious to spread educational information concerning cancer as widely as possible, and is offering all organizations the opportunity to hear trained and qualified volunteer speakers who can tell facts about cancer which are so often vague in the minds of even the most intelligent people.

Mr. Almont Mitchell

Mr. Almont (Al) Mitchell, Aurora, who passed away at York County hospital Thursday, Nov. 17, 1949, after several years of failing health, was laid to rest in Aurora cemetery on Saturday, Nov. 19. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. L. R. Coupland from P. M. Thompson's Funeral Home. Members of the Orange Lodge 643 assisted at the graveside service.

Mr. Mitchell was born in King twp. in the year 1887. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Archie Mitchell, King. In the year 1916 he was married to Lotie Harman, daughter of Mr. Lambert Harman and the late Mrs. Harman. Since then he has resided in Aurora. He was an employee of Canada Wire and Cable for the past seven years. He also was a member of L.O.L. 643, and an honorary member of Aurora fire brigade.

He is survived by his wife, three sisters, Mrs. Leonard Hall (Muriel), King; Mrs. Jim Gillham (Mary), Temperanceville; Mrs. George Goldsmith (Isobel), Buffalo; and three brothers, Lorne, Calvin and Norval, all of King twp.

A large connection of relatives and friends were present from Toronto, Sutton, Burks Falls, Magnetiawan, Acton and Buffalo. The many floral tributes were expressions of sympathy and the esteem in which he was held.

Pallbearers were three brothers, Lorne, Calvin and Norval, two brothers-in-law, Leonard Hall, Jim Gillham and Vic Jones.

Canada's tax collector (the Department of National Revenue) will cost the Canadian taxpayer more than 52 million dollars this year. In 1943 it cost only 15 million to collect our taxes.—Quick Canadian Facts.

For organizations where the season's schedule is not complete, the Toronto committee will be glad to arrange a program with interesting and instructive films and speakers. Where organizations have already settled on the year's calendar of meetings, Mrs. Glover is anxious that one of the Toronto speakers be allowed to talk for ten or fifteen minutes to bring important information to members.

Make Plans For Xmas B.P.W.C. Meeting

Ten members of the newly organized Business and Professional Women's Club in Aurora attended the dinner meeting of the Newmarket club which was held at King George hotel on Monday, Nov. 21. Mrs. Dorothy Baker, Aurora, president, extended greetings to the hostess club from visitors. Mrs. Jean Elines presided over the meeting and later gave a report on the provincial conference which was held recently in Ottawa. There were 47 present.

Beautiful nosegays, presented with the compliments of Perrin's Flower Shop, were at each place.

The December meeting will take the form of a Christmas party to which the husbands or gentlemen friends of members are invited. An interesting program covering the remaining meetings until May was presented by Mrs. Isabelle Garrioch. In January, Mrs. Dorothy Bowman will address the club on public speaking. February will be International Night with Miss Nazla Dane, Toronto, as speaker. In March there will be a round table discussion on Canada and election of officers will be held at the April meeting.

At the close of the business session, bridge, euchre and whist were enjoyed by the members.

Mr. Albert Returns Police Trustees

The meeting for nomination of police trustee was held in the town hall on Thursday evening with a small attendance, when every taxpayer should be interested enough to go. However, those who were there heard a very fine report of last year's work by the police trustees and we do feel that after hearing facts and figures on fire equipment, we are really going to get somewhere. And something will be done with Centre St. and we hope, be rid of the dust menace. Five new street lights are to be put on, something else badly needed. We feel the chamber of commerce is going to help the town fathers in many ways and everyone can help by encouraging the good work which the police trustees would like to do. The nominations were: Case, Carr, Sinclair, Hicks, D. Dike, Lloyd McQuaid, but all retired in favor of the first three who were again returned to office.

Mount Albert will have a visit from Santa Claus on Saturday, Dec. 17, and also on that day there will be a lucky draw for several baskets of groceries. Tickets will be given at the stores on purchases made.

Miss Ann Carruthers, Toronto, spent the weekend with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Carruthers. After a lovely fall the severe cold and heavy snowfall brought winter in a hurry and many with cars found themselves having to be pulled out of bad situations.

Dr. Jas. Hamilton, Geneva, N.Y., visited his mother, Mrs. Agnes Crowle, for a few days last week.

Dr. and Mrs. G. W. E. Macpherson and Mr. and Mrs. Morley Case spent the weekend in Buffalo.

Miss Mildred Dike and Miss Isabel McIntosh, Toronto, were in town over the weekend.

Mrs. J. F. Burr spent a few days last week in Toronto at the home of her nephew, Mr. F. G. Draper.

Mr. M. Roberts of the Dominion bank, who was moved to Toronto some time ago, has at last been successful in securing a house at Islington and will be moving before Christmas.

Mr. T. Allison has been confined to the house with a severe cold.

The police trustees ask that those who care to attend their meetings may do so as they are held in the town hall the last Thursday of each month.

QUEENSVILLE

The Evening Auxiliary is holding a bazaar and tea in the United church basement, this Saturday afternoon, Dec. 3. Everyone welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Smith visited Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mainprize at Belhaven on Sunday.

Most of the hunters had wonderful luck in the north. Some children on their way to Sunday-school didn't need to go hunting to see two fawns friskily skipping over the fields not far from Union St. school. Last year a fawn was seen running around in the school yard, so perhaps this is almost as good a hunting ground as the north country.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Dixon, Barrie, visited Mr. and Mrs. Angus Smith on Saturday.

Mr. Pepper has been making extensive repairs to his store. Mrs. Chas. Milsted is teaching in Keswick in the primary department. The regular teacher, Miss O'Brien, was taken to the hospital last week.

East and North Gwillimbury teachers held their meeting on Friday afternoon at Mrs. Eleanor Mahoney's school on the 6th at Zion.

Miss Carr of Queensville gave us a splendid talk on her summer visit in B.C. Mr. Peat, one of the masters at Toronto Normal School, gave us some splendid information on primary reading, etc. There was also a good book demonstration. Mrs. Jean Barnes favored us with a piano solo. After this a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Fred Mahoney, Mrs. Horace Pearson and Mrs. Allan Stiles. It was decided there would be no more meetings until January.

WILLOW BEACH

Miss Willa Crittenden was home for the weekend.

Mrs. Charles Martin has gone to the home of her niece in Branford for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Magee are spending a week's holiday with Mrs. Magee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Sedore.

Miss Mary Jean Sinclair was home for the weekend.

Mr. Acl Chapman was in Toronto for a few days this past week.

SERVED ON RINK

References were made by several candidates to the excellent spirit shown in the volunteer labor which has brought artificial ice so close to a reality.

Reeve Arthur Evans, commenting on it, remarked that two members of council, Paynter and VanZant, had been active participants in the work.

22 Fair Winners Sired By Maple Breeders Ass'n

Audio-Visual Meeting Draws Good Crowd

Close to 70 people attended the audio-visual aids meeting of Newmarket Home and School Association held on Tuesday evening, Nov. 22, at Stuart Scott school. Chaired by Mrs. Ted Mitchell, the meeting was opened by prayer by Mrs. M. E. R. Boudreau.

Two musical selections were played by John Giovannelli on his piano accordion and were very much enjoyed by those present.

Mrs. Alex Georgas took charge of the meeting for the presentation of the program and explained the meaning of the term audio-visual aids. She introduced and thanked the speakers, Mrs. B. L. Sinclair and Mrs. Myrtle Purcell. The former spoke on "Radio and School" and the latter on "Influence of Theatre and Comic Books." A movie, "The Feeling of Rejection," completed the program.

The movie proved very interesting and educational. It showed the effects on a young woman's health, both mental and physical as well as on her personality of improper parental treatment during childhood. Thinking themselves to be understanding parents, they protected their child so much that they actually handicapped her. The film, which was made at McGill University and the Royal Victoria hospital, Montreal, by the National Film Board showed how through proper attention from a trained psychiatrist the young woman was able to regain her rightful place in society.

Mrs. Margaret McSkimming, a charter member of the association who is visiting in town attended the meeting.

At the request of the Guernsey breeders of the district, the management added a battery of Guernsey bulls to the Maple Cattle Breeders' Artificial Insemination Unit and their services are now available. The selection committee's aim was to secure proven bulls of good type from high milk production cow families. These were located in some of the outstanding herds of Ontario.

It is interesting to note that in the recent Royal Winter Fair where the Guernsey show surpassed any previous showing of the breed, 22 prize winning exhibits were sired by the Guernsey bulls purchased by the Maple Cattle Breeders. Three of the six first prize winners later won the rosettes for the junior champion bull, junior champion female, senior and grand champion bull.

Few individual farmers can afford to purchase bulls of this calibre but in the unit they will be available to all Guernsey owners and should do much for the breed. The bulls were secured from the following herds where they have been in service: C. F. W. Burns, Kingfield Farm, King; H. V. Howell & Son, Welland; H. W. Stewart, St. Catharines; and Jack Fraser, Fraserdale Farm, Concord.

York-Simcoe Guernsey Breeders' club is holding its annual meeting at Maple on Wednesday, Dec. 7, and is planning to meet at the Maple Cattle Breeders to inspect the bulls at 11 o'clock with dinner at the Maple Villa at 12.30.
